Hi Anthony,

Thanks for getting back to me.

The film is definitely aimed at adults, and as a documentary about horror cinema, it features a fair amount of violence. I would think an 18 certificate is most appropriate. (A few councils have approved it already, and most have gone for 18, though a few have gone for 15.)

I'm not planning to start screening the film until May or June so there's no immediate rush.

Cheers,
Charlie

Dear Mr Lyne,

Your letter has been passed through from the Angel Centre at Tonbridge to Licensing Services on Friday 11 March 2016.

I need to arrange an authorisation for you to show the film. However it is always useful to seek the filmmaker guidance under what classification you are seeking for the film. Therefore to help with the authorisation could I ask you for the classification you are seeking for this film?

The authorisation is cross referenced with the guidelines from the British Board of Film Classification (BBFC).

Finally could I ask what timeline you are working to as I need to arrange for the film to be viewed.

Regards
